SUMMARY OF COURSE

This course is an elective course in the Graduate Certificate in University Learning and Teaching (GCULT) and Master of Education (Higher Education) programs programs.

It utilises and builds on theories of learning and teaching introduced

4. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

Research suggests that students learn best when they are actively engaged in their learning through analysis, discussion, collaboration, reflection and application. This research has driven a shift in the way we teach, moving from a transmission approach, to learning centred and blended learning approaches. The teaching strategies in this course aim to model these approaches.

5. TEACHING STRATEGIES

To scaffold and support your learning, you will be provided with:

- (a) key readings on theories of learning and their implications for teaching in higher education,
- (b) online learning activities aimed at developing critical awareness of the constructs and theories contained in these readings, and
- (c) online tools to enable and foster collaboration and facilitate discussion and reflection on the implications of these theories and constructs for practice.

Three assessment tasks including regular weekly learning activities will facilitate the transfer of your knowledge of key constructs and theories of learning and teaching into practical actions that practice67W@.000

7. RESOURCES

Readings

This course has two prescribed texts. Weekly learning activities will be based upon readings from these texts and other prescribed readings. However, you are encouraged to read more widely in the scholarly literature on learning and teaching in higher education generally, and in your discipline in particular.

Prescribed Texts

Hunt, L. & Chalmers, D. (Eds). (2012). University teaching in focus. A learning-centred approach. Camberwell: ACER Press.

Biggs, J., & Tang, C. (2011). Teaching for Quality Learning. (4th ed.). Buckingham, UK: SRHE and Open University Press.

Moodle Course

EDST 5122 Enhancing Student Learning in Higher Education has an on-line presence within Moodle where you can find:

1. information concerning the structure and processes of the course (including further

Assessment Details

Assessment Task 1:

Contributions to Online Learning Activities

(20% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1, 2, 3 and 4; PLOs 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5)

Submission Dates:

As required throughout the course

Make contributions to Learning Activities that advance discussion, debate and understanding of the key concepts and theories of learning and teaching in your discipline and higher education more widely.

Assessment Task 2:

A review of teachers' understandings of learning and teaching in your discipline

(40% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1 and 2; PLOs 1, 2 and 5)

Submission Dates:

Draft for Peer Review: 5.00 pm on Friday 25 September 2020

FINAL Submission Date: 5.00 pm on Friday 2 October 2020

Prepare a review of teachers' understandings of learning and teaching in your discipline that includes answers to the following questions:

What are the assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning that underpin your own and your colleagues

How do these assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning influence your own and approaches to teaching in on-campus, online and blended contexts?

How do these assumptions, values and beliefs about student learning compare with those scholarly literature on learning and teaching?

Assessment Task 3:

An essay on your developing understanding of student learning and how it will influence your future approach to teaching in on-campus, online, and blended contexts.

(40% weighting) (Maximum of 2000 words) (CLOs 1, 2, 3 and 4; PLOs 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5)

Submission Dates:

FINAL Submission Date: 5.00 pm on Friday 20 November 2020

Building on your response to Assessment Task 2, and drawing from:

- a. your experiences,
- b.
- c. the theoretical literature, and
- d.

write an essay on how your understanding of student learning has evolved as a result of your participation in this course and what the implications of this evolution are for your future teaching in on-campus, online and blended contexts.

This will require you to articulate:

your understanding of student learning upon entering the course and how this understanding influenced your approach to teaching the significance of different aspects of the course (theories of learning examined, observations and insights of colleagues and/or feedback from students) in the evolution of your understanding of student learning how your understanding of student learning has changed what you now understand about student learning in your discipline, what the implications of this new understanding of student learning means for your future teaching practices in on-campus, online and blended contexts, and how and why these changes to your future teaching strategies are likely to positively impact on student learning

Submission of assessments

You

Assessment Task 1 As required via posts to Moodle Learning Activity Discussion Forums.

Assessment Task 2 - Should be submitted online via Turnitin in the Cou of a MS Word by 5.00pm on Friday 2 October 2020

Assessment Tasks 3 - Should
