6. Graduate Attributes
Science Graduate Attributes*	Level of Focus 0 = No focus 1 = Minimal 2 = Minor 3 = Major	Activities/Assessment
1. Research, inquiry and analytical thinking abilities	3	Participation in online lectures, workshops and readings. These are designed to enhance students understanding of abnormal psychology, biological bases of behaviour, cognition, individual differences, learning, development, motivation and emotion, historical psychology, clinical service delivery, social policy, epidemiology. Understand science of psychology, evaluate research methods, critically analyse theoretical and empirical studies. Apply knowledge of the scientific method in thinking about problems related to addiction. Knowledge of course content will be assessed in the mid-semester quiz and final exam. The essay will assess understanding of relevant concepts and theories, and require students to research empirical literature and critically analyse the content.
2. Capability and motivation for intellectual development	2	The online delivery of course content requires students to be responsible for keeping up to date with lectures and assessments thereby showing commitment to their own learning experience. Course discussion forums provide students with the opportunity to discuss/question/evaluate concepts covered in the course. The essay requires critical evaluation of relevant literature in the field.
3. Ethical, social and professional understanding	1	There will be scope for discussion within lecture material of the ethical issues surrounding the study and treatment of addiction and mental disorders, with a focused consideration of individual, societal and familial contexts. Students will be asked to consider the stigma associated with addiction and mental disorders; and to consider solutions at an individual and societal level to overcoming such prejudice and inequality. Apply knowledge of psychology, society, clinical practice and government policy.
4. Communication	3	Participation in the online discussion forum and online course content. Student's ability to effectively communicate ideas will also be specifically assessed in an essay using American Psychological Association (APA) structure and formatting conventions.
5. Teamwork, collaborative and management skills	2	Demonstrate self-management by way of online completion of lecture content and assessments. Demonstrate teamwork and collaboration by participating in the online course forums to enhance the learning experience of themselves and fellow students.
6. Information literacy	3	Demonstrate effective use of information and information technology by accessing course content via

7. Rationale for the Inclusion of Content and Teaching Approach

All teaching strategies are designed to educate students on the learning outcomes and graduate attributes outlined in the above sections (4, 5, and 6). The lecture material covered in this course provides a broad basic understanding of scientific perspectives on addiction and its treatment. It is both complementary and serves as a primer for biological, clinical and applied courses in psychology. The lectures will be presented as PowerPoint slides with accompanying audio to facilitate the encoding and understanding of the material. The research and writing skills workshop will provide you with an important introduction and development of your research skills both in

On the Tuesday of Week 5 (23/08/2016; 9 a.m. Sydney time) a 20 question multiple-choice quiz (MCQ) will be made available online via Moodle for approximately three days (the exam will be available until Thursday 25/08/2016; 11.59 p.m. Sydney time). Students will be able to sit the examination once. The exam is worth 20% of the total course mark and completion of this exam is a requirement to pass this course. The quiz will last 17 mins allowing for 51s per question. The time limit on this MCQ means that the exam should not be attempted "open book" with reference material nearby, as there is not enough time to consult any reference material to answer these questions. The time limit will provide ample opportunity for students to read and answer all the questions. Details about the delivery of the online quiz will be made available to students via . Please ensure that you check Moodle and your student email often (i.e. daily or at least bi-weekly). The material assessed in this exam will cover all material presented in weeks 1, 2, 3, & 4 (i.e. topics 1-9). This mid-session exam will allow you to assess your progress in the course prior to the semester 1 cut-off date to drop the course without financial liability (Thursday, 31/08/2016) and without academic penalty (Thursday, 31/08/2016). This should allow students to make an informed decision about their progress in this course up to this point.

How can Elise help me?

ELISE (Enabling Library & Information Skills for Everyone) is an online tutorial to help you understand how to find and use information for your assignments or research. It will help you to search databases, identify good quality information and write assignments. It will also help you understand plagiarism and how to avoid it. All undergraduate students have to review the ELISE tutorial in their first semester and complete the quiz, but any student can review it to improve their knowledge: <http://subjectguides.library.unsw.edu.au/elise>.
