5.2 Assessment criteria and standards

Further details and marking criteria for each assessment will be provided to students closer to the assessment release date (see 4.1: UNSW Assessment Design Procedure).

5.3 Submission of assessment tasks

Written assessments: In accordance with UNSW Assessment Policy written pieces of assessment must be submitted online via Turnitin. No paper or emailed copies will be accepted.

Late penalties: deduction of marks for late submissions will be in accordance with the Graduate Diploma in Psychology assessment policy. Students will receive a penalty of 5 marks per day for late submissions, including weekends. For example, an assessment due on Sunday and submitted on Tuesday would be considered two days late leading to a penalty of 5 x 2 = 10% from the total assessment mark.

Special Consideration: Students who are unable to complete an assessment task by the assigned due date can apply for special consideration. Special consideration applications must be submitted through the special consideration portal available through myUNSW. UNSW operates under a Fit to Sit/ Submit rule for all assessments. If a student wishes to submit an application for special consideration for an exam or assessment, the application must be submitted prior to the start of the exam or before an assessment is submitted. If a student sits the exam/ submits an assignment, they are declaring themselves well enough to do so.

Students who have experienced significant illness or misadventure during the assessment period may consideration (see - https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration). In the case of take-home assessment tasks, misadventure must occur for at least 3 consecutive days during the assessment period. If approved, students may be given an extended due date to complete take-home assessments.

Alternative assessments: there will be no alternative assessments due to the intensive nature ofthe course. Please refer to the Graduate Diploma in Psychology (5331) Guide for policies and procedures relating to misadventure.

Supplementary examinations: Students may apply for a supplementary exam, providing that this is not an ongoing issue. If students are unable to engage in all aspects of the course for two weeks or longer, they will be required to submit an application to withdraw from the course without penalty. Please refer to the Graduate Diploma in Psychology (5331) Guide for policies and procedures relating to misadventure.
